Why do we store your data?

Storing your data is an essential tool that allows us to chart your journey as an author. This benefits both us and you, the author, as it enables us to advise you accordingly. The flow chat below illustrates how we manage and store your data on our system.

Important Notices:

- The author file is only accessed by the core team at Cornerstones: Helen, Julie, Sarah, and Natalie.
- Our GDPR-compliant database (RSS) is password-protected.
- Authors can request that we delete their data and author file at any given point.
- We are a confidential service: your details are never shared with third parties.
